(Track 7)

Kim You sure have a lot of books here, Greg.
Where did you get them all?

Greg Oh, different places, Kim. Some are from friends or my family, but I bought a lot of them from used bookstores. Especially from this one favorite store of mine. . . .

Kim Really? What's it called?

Greg Bernard's Books.

Kim Oh. I haven't heard of it. What's it like?

Greg Well, it's in an old house, actually. Someone made it into a bookstore. They've got different kinds of books in every room of the house. And they're really cheap. . . . You know, because a lot of people are buying e-books instead these days.

Kim It sounds like a cool place. Are you going back soon?

Greg Actually, I'm going over there tomorrow afternoon. Do you want to come?

Kim Tomorrow? Yeah, I'm free. That sounds great. . . . Hey, I just thought of something. Do they buy old books, too?

Greg Of course. That's how they get all their books.

Kim Great. I know what I'll do. I've been mainly reading e-books lately, so I'll pack a couple of boxes of books to sell. It would be nice to get rid of some of the clutter in my house. . . . You might want to take some of your books, too.

Greg Yeah, I ought to get rid of some of them. But that's my problem. I'd rather buy them than sell them.
